Autodesk® Certification Program for Schools in North America

What is the Autodesk User Certification?
Autodesk User Certification allows students to begin their design careers while in school, and then move forward with additional levels of certification as they attend college and begin working as design professionals.

What certification exams are available with Autodesk?
- Autodesk AutoCAD® Certified User
- Autodesk Inventor® Certified User
- Autodesk Revit Architecture Certified User
- Autodesk Maya Certified User
- Autodesk 3ds Max Certified User

Are the exams based on a specific software release?
The exams are not based on a specific release, but instead are based on a series of fundamental tasks that are not release specific. You will not need to order exams of a specific release to match the software release in your lab.

How will the exams be delivered?
Educators and students can take the exams at a public Certiport Authorized Testing Center or become a center themselves. If schools or districts want to run exams onsite, they can easily become a testing center and run the exams seamlessly in class. Institutions can sign up to be centers on the Certiport site.

What will I receive when certified?
When you earn an Autodesk User Certification, the certification will be viewable online using their Certiport test candidate ID. In addition, you can forward an electronic version to your peers or employers or print a copy for their records.

What happens if I do not pass my exam?
Autodesk Education has produced the Digital STEAM Workshop. There are other test preparation materials that are available. Contact your Certiport Sales Representative to learn more (click on the state where you reside to get the contact information).

What if I have more questions?
